III. Information about the data processing

Your data processed when using our website will be deleted or blocked as soon as the purpose for its storage ceases to apply, provided the deletion of the same is not in breach of any statutory storage obligations or unless otherwise stipulated below.

Provision of the website and the generation of logfiles

When accessing the npi website the system collects data automatically from the accessing computer system. The following data are collected:

- Website
 - Date and time
 - Amount of data in bytes
 - Link from where the connection was made
 - Browser which was used
 - Operating system which was used
 - IP address which was used.

The server logfiles are saved for maximum 7 days and then deleted. The storage of logfiles is due to safety reasons e.g. to analyse and track misuse. If data are needed for further investigations they are stored until the case is solved. Legal basis for the storage is Art. 6 Par. 1 lit. f GDPR.

The temporary storage of logfiles is a requirement of the system in order to deliver the website to the computer system of the user. The IP address will be stored for the duration of the session. This procedure is based on Art. 6 Par. 1 lit f of the GDPR.

Data are deleted at the closure of the website. Only data needed for safety investigations will be stored for maximum 7 days.

The collection of these data for the provision of the website and subsequent storage in logfiles is essential for the functioning of the website. Therefore the user cannot file a claim against it.
